

2017 Rho Psi Advanced and ProPrep Youth Tennis Scholarship

Rho-Psi Foundation awards scholarship to advanced Chinese youth tennis players, in the Great Washington Area, who demonstrate outstanding competition results in playing in school teams as well as USTA sponsored tournaments.

For 2017, four advanced players (two boys and two girls) will be selected by a special committee from WACTA for scholarship. The first place girl and boy will receive $600 and the second place boy and girl will receive $400. We encourage all Chinese players who are still in school (high, middle, or elementary schools). Special consideration will be given to the members of WACTA.

In addition, Rho-Psi Foundation offers ProPrep awards for promising tennis players who are national ranking and have been chosen to a national training program this year. The applicants have to demonstrate the capability and desire to become professional players. The winner will receive $2,000 scholarship.
